Success Will Reward Effort For Auditorium

Those engaged in organizing the convention hall-opera house stock company visited the offices of several business and professional citizens of Ada this morning and within a short time secured more than one-half of the required stock.

It was gratifying to meet with such success and to come in contact with such a number of citizens who are so faithful to the interests of their city.

It was measurably as equally satisfactory to meet those citizens, who approved the movement in behalf of the public good, but who, on account of financial reasons, refrained from taking any subscription at this time.

There is every confidence that the required stock will be subscribed by 12 o'clock tomorrow.

THIS CONFIDENCE IS NATURAL SINCE ALREADY TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS HAVE BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY ONLY ELEVEN CITIZENS, NONE OF WHOM WERE ALLOWED UNDER THE SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT, TO TAKE MORE THAN EIGHT SHARES OR TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS.

Out of the total of seventeen men approached today, eleven responded. Hereunder is published the stock subscription agreement. It may be noted that the guaranteed first year's earnings on the investment nets 30 per cent.

It is the intention of the organizers of the company to call on every accessible citizen for stock subscription without discrimination until the required amount is raised.

Those Ada citizens who are interested and who might agree to participate in this proposed and assured investment are cordially invited to phone number four, when there will be afforded full information concerning both its value as an investment and a public necessity. Could one do better than to participate in both a safe business venture and a public spirited action within the one movement?

A $25.00 share of stock subscription will be as much appreciated as a $200.00 subscription.

Two of the present $200.00 subscribers wanted sixteen shares, but were refused. Not more than $200.00 subscription will be accepted from any one individual.

STOCK SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT.

We, the undersigned citizen of Ada, Oklahoma, agree to take the number of shares of stock set opposite our names for the purpose of building an Opera House and Convention Hall as a third story to the City Hall.

We further agree to form a corporation, capitalized at four thousand dollars ($4,000.00) to be divided into one hundred sixty shares of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) each and that no one person shall be allowed to subscribe for more than eight (8) shares.

Provided, that there shall be returned to stockholders in proportionate amount of stock subscription, as a dividend on the completion of proposed auditorium what ever percentage of paid in stock not consumed in such construction; And provided further that there shall be secured a boni fide contract, on the organization of the Company, from responsible party, known to be enforceable, to rent for the period of twelve months such proposed auditorium at the sum of $1200.00 to be paid cash in advance, on completion of structure;

And provided further; that there shall be secured from the City of Ada, Oklahoma, a satisfactory contract for the structure based on the general proposal by its representatives hereto attached.

HASKELL APPEALS TO PRESIDENT TAFT

GOVERNOR HITS NAIL SQUARELY ON HEAD SAYING FEDERAL GOVERNMENT PROMOTES IL-LEGAL LIQUOR SALES.

By Granting Government Licenses in Prohibition Territory—Bootleggers are Encouraged and Abetted.

Governor Haskell has reached the heart of the matter of prohibition enforcement in an appeal addressed to President Taft asking the co-operation of the federal government in enforcing prohibition. All bootleggers are protected by a government license. Of course, this license only protects them from interference of federal officials, but therein lies the strength of their position. Where these men would not dare to violate a federal regulation or statute they laugh at local law in the hands of local enforcement officials.

Governor Haskell has appealed to the president to issue an order revoking license in local prohibition territory. It is likely the matter will be considered in Washington solely on its legal merits. If the appeal is denied it will likely be on legal grounds.

If the people of Oklahoma—and all prohibition and local option states, will unite in bringing an irresistible pressure to bear upon congress a national law curing this fatal defect in all prohibition law can be secured.

The following quotation is an extract from Governor Haskell's appeal.

"Our great government should never be an instrument to aid in the commission of crime, nor should it condone the offense against itself by an advance settlement in the form of revenue tax payment. We have good reason to believe that an appeal to you will receive full consideration and the full measure of justice. We ask you to direct complete suspension of receiving money and issuing revenue tax certificates for the sale of intoxicating liquors in the state of Oklahoma in every case, and to every person, except wherein the state of Oklahoma, by its laws, adopted in pursuance of the direction of the United States congress in the statehood bill, authorize the handling of intoxicating liquors. This, we understand, can be done without further act of congress."

Bailey Opens His Fight.
Pilot Point, Tex., Aug. 13.—Declaring himself ready for a fight to a finish on his record on the tariff, United States Senator J. W. Bailey spoke here two hours yesterday afternoon. He defended his votes on the tariff. He denounced the Dallas News. He intimated that, while he had come home in a peaceful mood, it might be dangerous for the man hardy enough to venture into the political arena in opposition to him.

The first hour of Senator Bailey's speech was a consistent and most severe arraignment of the republicans. Then he turned to local affairs and the interest immediately became intense. The fur flew promiscuously, the News losing a large portion of hide in the general flaying process.

The senator's popularity seems to be on the increase and his return to the senate is a decided probability.

Reports for the past two days show a wide area of rain fall throughout the western half of Texas, in most sections effectually breaking the drouth.

The above is a telegram received today from Attorney Moman Pruitt. It came in reply to a direct inquiry as to why Mr. Pruitt had, in interviews reported in several of the state papers, seen fit to cast reflection upon Ada and Pontotoc county in appealing to Governor Haskell to intervene and prevent his client, accused of murder, from being brought to Ada, fearing mob violence.

The interviews as published were of a sensational character and tended to do great injury to the reputation of this county. The full denial of Mr. Pruitt as given above will be well received by Mr. Pruitt's multitude of friends in this community.

OKLAHOMA CENTRAL SPUR LINE PROPOSITION

CONSIDERATION OF THE PLAN TO BUILD THIS CONNECTION POST-PONED ON ACCOUNT OF FATAL ACCIDENT.

Traffic Manager Parker Killed by Cars in the Yards of this Road at Purcell.

Traffic Manager Parker of the Oklahoma Central road and brother-in-law of Dorset Carter, president of the road, was accidentally killed in the Oklahoma Central yards today. The accident occurred just as President Carter was preparing to start for Ada to confer with citizens relative to the proposed two-mile line to connect Ada with the main line of the road.

Mr. Carter wired the facts here, asking that consideration of the matter be postponed.

P. A. Norris of Shawnee, president of the First National bank of Ada, and Frank Phillips of Greenville, Tex., vice president of that institution arrived in Ada this morning to join Mr. Carter and local citizens in considering the proposition. Messrs. Norris in several of the great commercial enterprises of Ada and are very anxious for the construction of this spur line on account of the advantages it offers in the matter of freight.

On account of the unfortunate accident to Mr. Parker, Mr. Carter will have to postpone his visit, but will likely be here on Monday.

Taft vs. Roosevelt Policy.

Washington, Aug. 13.—The battle which the Taft Administration is fighting in the west over two big policies of the Roosevelt regime is being watched with keen interest. The struggle is over the conservation of waterpower and the reclamation service. Secretary Ballinger of the interior department is leading the administration fight against the continuance of these Roosevelt policies before the National Irrigation congress at Seattle.

On the surface it is a contest over continuing the Roosevelt methods and not Roosevelt policies, but Chief Forester Pinchot contends that the matter goes to the heart of these policies. It is described as being a question of resolving a doubt of law in favor of the general public, or in favor of private interests.

The bold defense which Chief Forester Pinchot has made of his policy in the face of the fact that Secretary Ballinger speaks for the administration has created an unfavorable impression in Administration circles and it is thought that nothing but a wave of widespread demonstration in the West having a political import hearing on the Roosevelt policies can keep him in office.

we knew it a long time ago.

It is said that for the first time in its history Louisiana has a corn crop to sell. Heretofore the state has been a buyer of corn. Less cotton and more corn has wrought this change in crop conditions.

A Dallas man is exhibiting an ear of pop corn with the grains all popped. He says he found the ear in that condition on the stalk. Here is a case for Burbank—on the popcorn trust, we hardly know which.

Honest now, how about that luxurious growth of weeds that covers half the sidewalk and forces people to go along "Injun file" on the side-of course we don't—and if we did we wouldn't tell and be pointed out as "a mean old thing."

A Texas farmer has launched a new political party with the motto
"Men and Measures Rather than Party Loyalty." This new party will likely accomplish fully as much as such movements usually do. The new party renounces all existing parties.

If the change of design on the penny is popular with anybody that one has yet to speak. The substitution of the Lincoln head for the Indian head is incongruous and altogether out of harmony with public sentiment. The design for the new penny is the work of a young Russian artist.

The McAlester News-Capital says that the Red Oak "nigger" article was written by a boy of 19 years and therefore ought to be laughed at instead of prosecuted as a serious offense. A poor excuse may be better than none but a spanking at 19 may do a lot of good that will last a long time.

The Durant News editor say that he "can not understand why the people of Durant will vote bonds for other purposes that will cost them more tax than the three mill levy asked for by the school board, and yet will turn down that tax, when the life of our town depends on its school system and educational institutions. This tax should be voted without any question." We reckon it must be a matter of habit. From away back in territorial days Durant has been afflicted with the near-no-school germ.

Thaw Is Crazy.

Justice Mills has decided that Harry Thaw is insane and dismissed the writ of habeas corpus under which Thaw endeavored to secure his release from Mattawan, remanding him to the custody of state authorities at that institution.

The social stench that the reopen-

now to be allowed to subside, at least for a time.

Bailey's Platform.

day on the platform upon which you elected me Senator in 1900—that is, never, so help me God, will I vote to give to the manufacturer free raw material and leave a tax on the finished article."

This quotation from the senator's great speech at Pilot Point clearly defines the platform on which his next campaign is to be made.

Murray's Newspaper?

Ardmore, Okla., Aug. 13.—A persistent rumor is afloat that William H. Murray of Tishomingo, president of the constitutional convention, speaker of the first legislature and candidate for governor in 1910, is seeking to own a daily paper in Ardmore, the home of Lee Cruce, who will oppose him for the democratic nomination.

It is rumored that William A. Durant, a prominent Indian politician, is to become editor of the paper and take charge of the campaign of Murray in this section of the state. Mr.
Durant has been here this week looking over the situation. Mr. Murray has also been here.

When asked as to his opinion of the decision of Judge Campbell he replied that he had not yet read the stated that an appeal has been taksequently matters would be tied up

HAPPINESS WITHIN.

Happiness is largely from within.
It's a good bit in how we feel about things. We all live in the same world. It's the same sun, the same atmosphere, the same soil, and about the same surroundings for all of us.
Yet there are all manner of differing degrees of happiness. You've seen one member of a family so cheery and happy and inspiring that his very presence seemed to carry good luck and always made you feel better. And another member of the same household is so grumpy and selfish and cold hearted that he lowers the temperature of the neighborhood and unconsciously suggests the black man.
Why the difference? It can't reasonably be in the food, the air, or the surroundings. No; it's in the man himself. One views the world with an open eye of good will; another peers out with a half-shut eye of suspicion. "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh;" and out of the abundance of the heart the eye beams love or hatred and the face shows smiles or frowns.

"Oh, what differences there are in the hearts of men! Some hearts are rich and deep and mellow like fertile earth. Drop into such hearts seeds of truth or justice and these seeds spring into form as blossoms and fruits of good character. Other hearts are feeble and shallow and deadening. Drop into them the same good seeds and these seeds shrivel in the fierce heat of cruelty or freeze in the chill of selfishness or rot in the damp, oozy soil of stagnating indifference. The selfish heart east and drinks, and blesses no one; the reverent soul finds the love of God in ten thousand experiences, and itself grows loving and cheery on the way."

Ada Booster Returns.

Mr. J. H. Davis, one of Ada's leading boosters has returned from a far tour of the northwest.

Mr. Davis' trip of more than a month's duration included Colorado Springs, where he left his family for the summer vacation, Salt Lake City, Seattle, Victoria and Vancouver, British Columbia. He made the sea voyage from Seattle to San Francisco, which he described as most delightful. This thorough going Ada citizen declared that though the northwest was a great and wonderful country, he came back home more convinced that Oklahoma is the greatest country on earth.

TO NAVIGATE THE ARKANSAS.

Plan to Render River Navigable from Mouth of Cimarron—Harbors Planned for Muskogee and Tulsa.

Guthrie, Okla., Aug. 13.—Plans are now well in hand for promoting the deep waterway enterprise in which all Eastern Oklahoma is vitally interested. The Arkansas is to be made navigable from the mouth of the Cimarron river to Mississippi and it is proposed to establish four harbors for loading during low stages of the water. These are to be located at Fort Smith, Little Rock, Tulsa and Muskogee. These harbors will consist of a basin and locks at each of the points and will cost in the neighborhood of $500,000 each. This is the plan found to be best along the upper Ohio river.

If congress can be persuaded to make the necessary appropriation at the coming winter session the work can be commenced next summer and completed within three years, or September, 1913. Such improvements will render the river hereafter immediately available for the transportation of heavy dead freight during 4 to 5 months in the year when the river is at flood stages.

This would give Oklahoma an outlet for cotton, coal and oil of immense value to these industries in the counties along the Arkansas river that at present are dependent solely upon rail transportation and pipe line service.

The oil production of Oklahoma would probably be most benefited by such improvements along the Arkansas river.

JORDAN CLAIMS A SHORT COTTON CROP

TAKES EXCEPTION TO STATEMENTS MADE BY THE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE IN AN INTERVIEW ASKS CORRECTION.

Mr. Jordan Declares That the Present Cotton Crop is the Poorest Within His Recollection.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 12.—The New York World recently published an interview with Secretary of Agriculture Wilson in which Mr. Wilson is quoted as follows:

"The crops will be good everywhere. There will be a superfluity of work for everybody on the farms—more work than the farmers can find hands to do. The corn crop bids fair to surpass any other crop in the history of the country. The cotton crop will be reasonably good, and the balance of the crops above the average all along the line."

"Prosperity is not going to wait on the tariff or anything else. If any disturbance of conditions arises in the body politic it will have to come from somewhere else than the agricultural districts. It is not coming from the farm."

Mr. Jordan says he realized that the interview would be bearishly construed by the entire cotton trade if not corrected at once, and he immediately wired Secretary Wilson the following telegram:

"I notice an interview attributed to you in the New York World of August 1, in which you state the following: 'The cotton crop will be reasonably good.' Are you correctly quoted? Is not an immediate denial of this interview in order? Otherwise incalculable injury will be done the cotton growers of the south by speculative interests which will construe your statement to forecast a normal production of cotton. All private reports issued to date indicate a considerable deterioration of the cotton crop condition from the last month's report of the bureau of statistics. The Journal of Commerce condition report, published this morning shows an actual deterioration during the past month of three and seven-tenths per cent, making present condition seventy-three and one-tenth, which is the lowest condition ever reported by them. My opinion is that the present condition of the cotton crop is the poorest in my recollection, and that any authoritative statement from you at this time, that the 'cotton crop will be reasonably good,' is not only a wrong statement of actual facts, but will be used to the great injury of the constituency I represent in the south."

No report has been made as to whether Secretary Wilson has endeavored to correct the impression made.

Commercial Congress.

The Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress meets next Monday, August 16, in Denver and the Southwestern Shippers' association, composed of the shippers of Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Texas, will be a live factor in the meeting.

The executive board of the southwestern shippers will be in attendance, and the port of Galveston as a point of entry for the Southwest will receive due attention.

The board is composed of J. L. Powell, Wichita, Kan.; J. H. Johnston, Oklahoma City; H. H. Haines, Galveston; C. B. Bee, Guthrie, and R. O. McCormick of Fort Worth.

The Southwestern delegates will endeavor to secure the endorsement of the congress of the effort to secure a seaboard freight rate based upon the waterway rates via Galveston.

OKLAHOMA SIFTINGS.

Okmulgee reports two new big gushers added to her oil fields this week.

A contemporary says that railroad fare to Missouri is going up. He don't say what it will be coming down.

The Herald says that Shawnee has been for a long time all stirred up in its innards and the editor now pleads for a rest for the bad city.

Poteau county produces a crop of Elberta peaches, fine in quality, but short in quantity. The fruit is now being shipped and brings fancy prices.

Chickasha has a touch of "the blackhand." The victim is not worrying—much, and the police are alert to find whether it is the real thing or a hoax.

Muskogee Phoenix: Well, there is one thing about the new tariff situation. We have been accustomed to a pretty punk tariff bill and probably we can stand the new one without much difficulty.

L. M. Putnam, the Oklahoma City real estate man, has given $1,000 to the new Confederate Home at Ardmore, his father having been a Confederate soldier.

Judge Cottrell of the United States court recently, in a court session, ordered several men to either leave the court room or put on their coats. The peculiar dignity of the court demanded this strenuous action.

The republicans defeated the democrats at Chickasha—in a ball game the other day. Our friends, the enemy may string out their satisfaction over this victory to cover the next campaign, and so make a little consolation go a long way.

Dr. B. F. Hamilton of Shawnee, for a number of years president of the Territorial board of health of Oklahoma has been appointed physician to the Shawnee Indian Mission. He held this position ten years ago, but resigned to accept another government appointment.

Gov. Haskell has promised the committee that he would address the old soldiers on the first day of the state reunion at Chickasha, Aug. 25. Invitations have been issued to Senators J. B. Bailey and T. P. Gore. As both these distinguished men will be at home about that time.

At Sapulpa a grand juror overslept and a bailiff had to find his room and bring him awake into the court. The trivial incident has furnished a lot of fine dope for the newspapers, and hints of graft and other allegations and speculations are rife. Just shows what a novelty it is to find an Oklahoman asleep.

The State Board of Affairs announces that printed copies of the laws enacted by the last legislature will be ready for the public in about three weeks. The job was to have been delivered by this time, but changes made in the style of publication and revision of the material ordered by the state occasioned an additional delay.

State Chemist De Barr is waging war on a lot of headache medicines, patent "exhilarating" soft drinks, "morning after" tonics and a lot of liquid rubbish designed to take the place of or relieve the effects of the stuff the joints are dispensing. The substitutes and cures seem to be worse than the original stuff.

Chickasha is building a big knitting plant. This enterprise will enable that thriving city to attend to her own knitting.

Oklahoma City is troubled by "jay drivers" and "joy riders," the former driving on the right side of the street—which under city ordinance is the wrong side—and the latter driving on both sides and the middle at a most exhilarating rate of speed.

A bulletin recently issued by the United States geological survey shows that the production of coal in Oklahoma fell off 694,542 tons last year in comparison with the previous year. The total output of coal for 1908 was 2,948,116 short tons. The short production in Oklahoma was occasioned largely by the use of oil and gas for fuel purposes.

Muskogee is in another political turmoil. Former Police Chief Charles Himsey, republican, is contesting the election of Chief Bud Ledbetter, democrat. It is alleged by Himsey, among other things, that over three hundred voters who had registered and voted last fall were refused a vote at the last election, even if they did live in the same precinct. The whole state will be glad when Muskogee gets her politics on straight.

Shawnee Herald: Kansas has a correct way of doing things sometimes. Senator Bristow, who voted against the tariff bill, received an ovation when he reached his Salina home. His colleague, Senator Curtis, dropped into Topeka and no one even lighted a firecracker. Curtis betayed Kansas, while Bristow listened to public sentiment. If such sentiment continues throughout the nation there will be a democratic landslide next fall.

Some prominent young people at Durant worked up the time-worn practical joke of a fake, or mock, marriage just to fool the judge who was called on to perform the ceremony. But the judge was "wise" and tied a real knot and entry was made in the official records. By that time the young folks began to realize that their joke was a bum act and in fact no joke at all but a serious predicament. Erased records and dumb tongues now tell the tale of how the matter was set right. This joke is old enough now to be allowed to rest.

Negro Colonization Scheme.

Guthrie, Okla., Aug. 13.—Arrangements have been completed for holding a convention here in Oct. 22 to perfect a state organization to promote the colonization of American negroes in Africa under the auspices of the Abraham Lincoln African Aid and Colonization Society, recently incorporated here by Capt. N. B. Easton of Stillwater and other white citizens of Oklahoma.

On Oct. 28 the negroes of Oklahoma will hold a state meeting in Sapulpa to learn how many desire to accompany the African colonists. A colony has been organized at Gana, Ark., composed of several hundred negroes, who desire to know when the first shipment to Africa will be made, and another colony of 100 negroes in Southern Oklahoma has also been organized. Such organizations are offering to pay their transportation expenses.

Letters from Kentucky, Georgia, Missouri and other states indicate that colonies are being organized. A former Oklahoma negro, who for twelve years lived at Alberta, British East Africa, is aiding in the work. It is cited that 117 years ago three barbers of London organized a similar colonization scheme and transferred all of the negro residents of Great Britain to Africa.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. MISERYMONGERS AND WORRIERS LOSE IN LIFE, FAIL IN DEATH

An Every-day Practical Sermon Based on the Creed of Happiness, Which is to Look on the Bright Side, Seek the Good and Avoid the Appearance of Knocking.

Miserymongers (the word is not to be found in Webster, yet it suits) are those who do not really suffer affliction, but make a trade of it—and often a very thriving business too. They are scattered among every class but especially they belong to the "gensu irritabile"—the second or third rate order of people who live by their brains. Not the first order, for the highest form of intellect is rarely miserable. True genius of the completest kind is not only a mental but a moral quality. Itself creates the atmosphere it lives in; a higher and rarer air than that of common earth.

"Calm pleasures there abide;—majestic pains."

A habit of scolding indicates a want of self-discipline. The machinery has got from under our own hands, and has fallen to grating and destroying itself under the friction and perplexities of life.

"Possess thyself" is a more important rule than "Know thyself." Without this primary virtue we are not in a condition to receive much good to ourselves, or to afford aid to others.

Of all things which are to be met with here on earth there is nothing which can give such continual, such cutting, such useless pain as an undisciplined temper. The touchy and sensitive temper, which takes offense at a word; the irritable temper, which finds offense in everything, whether intended or not; the violent temper, which breaks through all bounds of reason when once roused; the jealous or sullen temper, which wears a cloud on the face all day and never utters a word of complaint; the discontented temper, brooding over its own wrongs; the severe temper, which always looks at the worst side of whatever is done; the wilful temper, which overrides every scruple to gratify a whim—what an amount of pain have these caused in the hearts of men, if we could but sum up their results! How many a soul have they stirred to evil impulses, how many a prayer have they stifled, how many an emotion of true affection have they turned to bitterness! How hard they make all duties! How they kill the sweetest and warmest of domestic charities! Ill-temper is a sin requiring long and careful discipline.

Every one must see daily instances of people who complain from a mere habit of complaining. With some, growing is chronic. Life is but one long fret. The flesh is feverish, the nerves unstrung, the spirit perturbed and in a state of unrest. The physical condition and material surroundings may have a strong tendency to disturb our equanimity and to exasperate our feelings; but we ought to bear in mind that scolding never did anybody any good, and withal, grows to be very uncomfortable to the party who indulges in it.

Scolding turns a household into a pandemonium, and a church into an inquisition. Bear in mind that kindness and gentle speech are a great deal easier to practice than opposites. Why practice the wrong thing when harder? Arrest yourself in the indulgence of this bad habit right here. Begin now, and put yourself under bonds to be good natured.

People of gloomy, uncheerful imaginations or of envious, malignant tempers, whatever kind of life they are engaged in, will discover their natural tincture of mind in all their thoughts, words and actions. Worry is the bane of the times. It is everywhere. It comes in a thousand forms, and from ten thousand sources, and its inlets are wide open in the hearts of the multitude. People fret, and fume, and chafe themselves into disease and wretchedness and finally into inanition and an untimely grave.

Generally speaking, if you are troubled with "the blues" and cannot tell why, you may be sure that it springs from physical weakness. Instead of lying on a sofa and court-ing painful ideas, if you are a desponding lover, a hypochondriac or a valetudinarian, you should be up and stirring yourself.

The blood of a melancholy man is thick and slow, creeping sluggishly through his veins, like muddy waters in a canal; the blood of your merry, chirping philosopher is clear and quick, brisk as newly broached champagne. Try, therefore, to set your blood in motion. To effect this, don't go to guzzling down brandy-smashes, gin-cocktails or any of the other juggling compounds in which alcohol is disguised; for every artificial stimulant will drag you down two degrees for every one it lifts you up. The devil always beats us at bar-ter. Try, rather, what a smart walk will do for you; set your pegs in motion on rough, rocky ground, or hurry them up a steep, craggy hill; build a stone wall; swing an ax over a pile of hickory or rock-maple; turn a grindstone; dig ditches; practice "ground and lofty tumbling;" pour water into sieves with Danaides, or with Sisyphus "up the high hill heave a huge round stone;" in short, do anything that will start the perspiration, and you will soon cease to have your brains lined with black, as Burton expresses it, or to rise in the morning, as Cowper said, "like an infernal frog out of Acheron, crowned with the ooze and mud of melancholy."

Nine-tenths of the worry of life is borrowed for nothing. Do your part; never leave it undone. Be industrious; be prudent; be courageous. Then throw anxiety to the winds. "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof;" therefore do not borrow any for tomorrow. No one ever looked for the dark side of life without finding it. Keep impatience out of your voice and manners as well as your heart. Some snap and slam through force of habit, even when their hearts are making as much music as a tea-kettle over glowing coals. Those passionate persons who carry their hearts in their mouths are rather to be pitied than feared; their threatenings serving no other purpose than to forearm him that is threatened.

The Congregationalist, telling of the death of a young man who was not prepared for it, gives this history of his father's family: "They were church members, but many years ago had changed their residence from the country to the city, and their position in the church from one of influence in a small society to one of comparative obscurity in a large one. The new status never pleased them; they were proud and disappointed; they did not enjoy their back seats. Then they began to grumble. They grumbled at the minister, who did not do pastoral work enough to please them; they had been accustomed to see the pastor every day or two in the old home; this man seemed indifferent to them; neither did his preaching please them; and he had altogether too big a salary, and they fancied, seemed to preach for the money. They grumbled at the aristocrats in the church, people who were 'stuck up,' the church itself becoming too expensive a luxury for poor folks. The result of it all was that the formerly respectable family sank into one that was low and indifferent, and the death alluded to came as one of the natural and inevitable consequences." The picture thus presented has many counter-parts through all the churches, and they all tell the same story. If Christians spend their strength in criticisms and complaint, they will perish under so deteriorating a discipline. Living faith, earnest going to work in devotion to God and love for our fellow-men, will bring salvation, but a failure to do this will work the other way.

It is doubtful if there is philosophy enough in the world, even if it were impartially distributed, to put a stop to worry. Some people would begin to fret the next day after such a distribution of the antidote, that they hadn't got their share. And then some things are as much stronger than philosophy as blood is thicker than water. Temperament is one of them. Inherited mental traits or habits that have crystallized into disposition, are more of the same sort. A man who has the elements so mixed within him that he naturally borrows trouble and crosses bridges before he gets to them, and permits things small or great to fret him, is bound to worry. He may as well attempt to alter his complexion, or change the thickness of his skin, as to stop worrying. The most he can do is to control the expression of his mental state within himself—and that is often more wearing to him than to give vent to his feelings. Speech is the safety-valve for constitutional growlers, and they are truly blessed if they have a friend with a willing ear and a buoyant nature, on whom their poured-out troubles have no more effect than a summer shower on a silk umbrella.

Ruling for Santa Fe.

Guthrie, Ok., Aug. 13.—Complaint of the Vera State Bank against the Santa Fe, asking that the road be required to give telegraphic service, was dismissed by the corporation commission today. It was held that the company was not in such business, and could not be required to establish the service, any more than it could be required to establish an electric lighting plant or a waterworks.

Woman's Methods That Aroused Wonder and Admiration.

"If I had my wife's head and nerve I'd own half of Wall street in less than five years," said the man. "It is the way she manages the clothes proposition that aroused me to wonder and admiration. Here is an example of her thrift."

"Early last month she bought a broadcloth dress which, with the extra charge for alterations, cost $55.
Well, after she got the suit home she didn't like it. The store objected at first to taking it back, but her persuasive tongue won them over, and after deducting $5 for the alterations, they refunded the money. Last week, when nosing around, she saw that same suit on sale for $35. My wife, it seems, has such a peculiar figure that the suit, after being made to fit her wouldn't fit anybody else, so there was that $50 garment, and cheap at the price, going for almost one-third off. She of course snatched up the bargain. No more fitting or making over was necessary, so even when counting in her $5 for alterations, she saved $15 on the deal. I'd just like you to show me any man who could cor out that well on a transaction in clothes."

"Of all your queer American customs," said the Englishman, "and you have many, you know—oh, yes, very many—the queerest is that of the oldest daughter of the first marriage of a woman who has been married twice wearing her mother's first wedding ring."

"How is that?" said the American woman. "That sounds rather complicated. I am afraid I didn't just catch it."

The Englishman repeated.

"In the two weeks that I have been in New York," he elucidated still further, "I have met four maiden ladies of 35 to 45 years of age who were wedding rings. I asked for an explanation, and each time I found that it was the ring with which the lady's father married her mother.
When the mother married again she gave the ring to her oldest daughter.
Don't you think that queer?"

"I certainly do," said the American woman, "still I can't believe that it is a national 'custom' or I should have heard of it before."—New York Press.

Lived Long as Hermit.

There has been discovered in the Australian "bush" or forests a wild Irishman, who had been leading a hermit life for a quarter century. He was of gigantic stature and enormous strength—a good advertisement for vegetarianism, as he had not touched animal food since his retirement from civilization. His hair was four feet long, matted and of considerable thickness. He told the police he was a follower of Christ, Samson and Hercules. His name is John Bernard Fitzgerald and he is 72 years of age.
He has never bathed, regarding the practice as irreligious and unnatural.
The combined force of half a dozen police, however, compelled him to overcome his scruples.

Paid for Bride by the Pound.

In the village of Kolked, in Hungary, it has since time immemorial been customary for the bridegroom to give the bride's parents some compensation before the wedding. The other day a peasant farmer named Kotvoes and the parents of his pretty young betrothed could not come to terms as to the amount, and so they agreed to make the mayor arbitrator.
That good man, a cattle dealer, valued the bride at 60 cents a pound. As she weighed 86 pounds the happy bridegroom had to pay only $51.60, and thought himself lucky to get a wife so cheap.

Chemical Formulas.

In chemistry the elements are represented by accepted abbreviations, called symbols, each of which indicates a single atom of the element.
When more than one atom is to be represented, figures are placed to the right of the symbol either above or below the line. A molecule representing a compound is indicated by a series of such symbols called a formula; thus alcohol has for its formula C2H6O, which shows that a molecule of this substance contains two atoms of carbon, six of hydrogen and one of oxygen.

Breaking the Rule.

"At our establishment," said the merchant, "we are training our employees to say 'Good-morning,' or 'Good-afternoon' at the telephone, instead of 'Hello.'"

"How does it work?"

"It works very well, indeed. Seems to please our customers and gives the establishment an air of dignity. The only trouble we have is with me. I'm the president, you know, and I forget.
There's nobody to log my memory nor call me down. Otherwise it works all right."

The Value of Politeness.

Hollow trees are always the stiffest, but the mightiest oak, it is found, can bend. That more exalted a man is by station, the more powerful should he be by kindness. There is no policy like politeness, since a good manner often succeeds where the best tongue has failed. Politeness is most useful to inspire confidence in the timid and encourage the deserving.—The Sunday Strand.
